The eleventh annual grand castle of the Ancient Order Knights of the Mys tic Chain began in this city yesterday morning, at Helmbright's Hall, corner of Thirty-sixth and Jacob streets, and it will conclude to-day. There are eight castles in West Virginia, all of which were represented, and the selec-tion of Wheeling as a meeting place in fair week was a happy one, the delegates being thus enabled to combine business with pleasure.
Owing to the delay of the out-of-town delegates in reaching Wheeling, the meeting didn't open until 1 p. m. The afternoon was a busy one. Officers afternoon was a busy one. A banquet followed the rendition of a musical and literary programme, and the affair was a most pleasing one.

The grand castl re-assembles to-day at 9 a. m. Among the visitors expected are Supreme Commander Joseph Mitchell, Supreme Scribe John J. Davis and H. E. Walnwright, president of the funeral benefit fund, all of Pittsburgh. All the business will be finished to-day.
